Ascom wins large contract with a leading hospital in Singapore

Ascom secures another important contract in the promising and sophisticated healthcare market of Singapore. The contract assigns Ascom to deploy its cutting-edge nurse call solution to one of the leading hospitals in Singapore. The contract amounts to around CHF 2.1 million.

The new customer was driven by Ascom's state-of-the-art technology, which aligns with the customer's strategy to offer the best patient care. Ascom delivers the Ascom Telligence nurse call solution, which is a modular, scalable patient response system that seamlessly integrates with current devices and applications, and can easily be expanded over time to meet future requirements. It offers everything from a standalone nurse call system to a fully integrated, end-to-end patient response solution. More efficient workflows help reduce stressful situations for care staff and provide a better care experience for patients.

The win is significant for Ascom, as it demonstrates that another prominent hospital in the ambitious healthcare market of Singapore values Ascom's versatile offerings and chooses Ascom to support and improve patient care for their facility.

Aage Rask Andersen, Vice President for Asia, Australia, and Africa (AAA), emphasizes: "This win is strategically important to Ascom as Singapore is a top-notch address to the Asian healthcare market and reflects our strong international market position. We are proud to be working in such a prominent project. Our solutions will empower physicians, nurses and administrators to deliver a better patient experience, by providing a more comprehensive view of the patient status. Hence, we are looking forward to delivering a cutting-edge solution for a hospital of the 21st century."
