The mental health provider will have Ascom's communications solutions installed across multiple hospitals. With this win, Ascom strengthens its market presence as a leading technology provider for mental health establishments in the UK.

Ascom is providing Ascom Myco 3 and i63 Protector mobile devices, Unite middleware and the web-based messaging application AlertTrac, designed to send text messages with acknowledgement to individuals or entire work teams.

Paul Lawrence, Managing Director of Ascom UK, says: "We are delighted to win this important contract. It shows, that Ascom offers the appropriate solutions for complex working environments in mental health institutions. This is vital for staff safety and a key benefit of using Ascom solutions. We are looking forward to strengthen this customer relationship and providing our professional support in the future."
